

I'm a Certified Practising Conveyancer

But what does this mean for you as my client?

AIC
SA

Your conveyancer. Your trusted property advisor.

What does it mean for you and your settlement?

A Certified Practising Conveyancer (CPC) is a sign of excellence, professionalism and demonstrates that I have invested in myself to develop and keep my knowledge updated on the conveyancing profession.

As a current member of the Australian Institute of Conveyancers SA Division (AICSA) I have been given the opportunity to continue to build and update my knowledge through their Professional Development Program.

To be considered a CPC, I have completed the minimum 100 points of professional development training which includes the key topics of risk management and cyber security in the previous 12 months.

You can feel confident as my client that I have been making every effort to keep up-to-date with the ever-changing legal requirements and improving my skills as a conveyancer on an ongoing basis.

Find out more

To find out more about the Certified Practising Conveyancer Program visit <https://aicsa.com.au/certified-practising-conveyancer/>

Australian Institute of Conveyancers (SA Division)

L3, 255 Pulteney Street, Adelaide 5000

08 8359 2090

www.aicsa.com.au

assist@aicsa.com.au

